Notes

Code pins

Each series of connector inserts is made in such a way as to make incorrect coupling between inserts of different series impossible. When a number of identical connectors with different functions are mounted closely together these must be selected in such a way as to prevent the coupling of a mobile part on a non-corresponding fixed part and consequent damage and breakdown.

Within this scope, special coding pins have been manufactured in order to restrict or avoid mating identical multiple connectors. By combining multiple coding pins, a high number of selected matings can be produced.
